Unlike Stephen Harper,
I'll act on the priorities
of the kitchen table,
not just the
boardroom table.

The screenshot shows the homepage of the NDP website. At the top, there's a banner featuring the party's logo and a group photo of the leadership team. Below the banner, the navigation menu includes links for HOME, LEADERSHIP 2012, PARTY, NEWS, VIDEO AND PHOTOS, and PARTICIPATE. A large orange call-to-action button says "DONATE NOW". The main content area features two large images: one showing a woman with the headline "CUTTING PENSIONS WRONG CHOICE" and another showing a man with the headline "50 YEARS OF Canadian Leadership". At the bottom, there's a "FIND OUT MORE" button, a "Watch videos now" section, and social media links for Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube. A loading message for a video player is visible at the very bottom.

The screenshot shows the same NDP website as before, but it has been heavily redacted. The entire content area, including the banner, navigation menu, and all text and images within the main content blocks, is covered by a solid black rectangular redaction. Only the header bar and footer bar remain visible in their original colors (orange and white respectively).
